

ULTIMA RADIO

With their variety of sounds, ranging from Alternative, Crossover, Progressive to Post Rock, Ultima Radio are trying to overcome the limits of typical genres, intending to find their very own style. After a successful demonstration of their potential versatility on their debut-album "A Thousand Shapes", Ultima Radio have now released their second album "Dusk City", which presents a much more consistent sound.

„Dusk City' is insane, in terms of dynamic, content, songwriting and emotions.“

(Bernhard Kleinbruckner, SLAM Magazin)

„Intelligent music with profound sounds, clear statements and crazy experiments.“

(Michael Breuer, RockTimes)

„...currently one of the most exciting bands of Austria...“

(Michael Walzl, Stormbringer)

The five members from Graz united in 2014, followed by their self-titled EP. After two collaborations with the Austrian Bands Witchrider (Reciprocity-Split, released under Fuzzorama) and Couloirs of Monochrome (Mapale-Split), the band released their debut-album "A Thousand Shapes" in September 2017 under the Austrian label Panta R&E. The album was well-received by the Austrian media and also received highly positive feedback across the Austrian borders (FM4, Volume, redbull.at, Soundportal, Stoned Meadow of Doom, Kleine Zeitung etc.). In October 2019 their second album "Dusk City" was released, which presented a very different musical approach compared to its predecessor and delivered an impressive demonstration of more confidence and consistency. Especially the underlying concept of the collapsing metropolis and its critical display attracted considerable attention and received much praise by many critics (Slam Magazine, Stormbringer, RockTimes, Kleine Zeitung, FM4, Soundportal, Stoned Meadow of Doom etc.). Recently, Ultima Radio has also become an official supporter of Sea Shepherd Austria.

„Passionately orchestrated, clean but not sterile, this is how the world is collapsing here.“

(Michael Setzer, Visions)

„Ultima Radio sound like themselves, which is a trick that many bands still haven't figured out after decades of activity.“

(Hal C. F. Astell, Apocalypse Later)
